Sweden Mourns Late Ruler; Son, Gustav VI Is Proclaimed King

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 30—(AP)—Gustaf VI today was proclaimed "King of the Swedes, the Goths and the Wends," the first new ruler to ascend the ancient Swedish throne in nearly half a century.

He succeeds his father, 92-year-old King Gustaf V, whose death yesterday morning after a reign of nearly 43 years plunged the nation into deepest mourning.

To all effects and purposes the son, born Prince Oscar Frederik Wilhelm Olaf Gustaf Adolf, has been Sweden's monarch since his father's death. But at colorful ceremonies today in the cabinet council room of Stockholm's royal palace he took the royal oath pledging himself to adhere strictly to the constitution and to rule "as a righteous king and gracious father of the Swedish people by a legal, just and mild government."

The new queen, British-born Louise, is the monarch's second wife. She is a sister of Earl Mountbatten and a great-granddaughter of England's Queen Victoria.

4-Year Old Is Prince

The new crown prince is a blond, curly-haired, four-year-old boy—little Prince Carl Gustaf. His father, the new ruler's eldest son, died in an airplane crash in 1947.

Meanwhile the body of Gustaf V lay in Drottningholm palace, where he died. His democratic rule had been one of the longest in Europe and the longest in Swedish history.

He had suffered from chronic bronchial catarrh for several years and took a sudden turn for the worse on Friday.

The funeral will be held on Thursday, Nov. 9.

The death of the monarch plunged his country into deepest mourning. Flags were at half staff. Newspapers were black-bordered. Movie and theater performances were cancelled. Mourning masses were held in all churches and bells tolled throughout the country.

In a few days, the remains will be placed in the chapel of Stockholm palace, where a guard of honor will parade day and night by the closed coffin covered with ermine mantle of the dead king.

Final Resting Place

King Gustaf will be buried in Riddarholm church, last resting place of most Swedish kings. He will lie by the side of his wife, Queen Victoria, who died 20 years ago.

Sweden's new ruler begins his reign fully prepared for his high duties. He often took the role of monarch in all but the name during his father's illnesses and absences from the throne.

Robust and temperate—he neither smokes nor drinks—Gustaf VI was an excellent athlete in his youth but did not continue strenuous sports as long as did his gaunt, lanky father, who played tennis at 88 and hunted at 91.

Educated in the public schools and at Uppsala university, the new ruler counts among his friends labor leaders as well as politicians and scientists. His interest in archeology took him to China and Greece for research.

He was married in 1905 to British Princess Margaret of Connaught, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria. They had four sons and a daughter, Ingrid, now queen of Denmark.

Princess Margaret died May 1, 1920. In November, 1923, Gustaf married Lady Mountbatten.

John P. Kelsner, Medina, is vice president of the committee, and Mrs. Lottie M. Randolph of Columbus, former assistant state director of agriculture, is secretary.

Cars driven by Carl Hively, 39, of R. D. 3, Canfield, and John Varkonda, 25, of R. D. 2, Atwater, collided at 11:45 p. m. Saturday on Route 62, about seven miles north of Salem, resulting in injuries to three in the Hively family.

Treated at City Hospital here were Mrs. Esther Hively, 34, multiple abrasions of the right leg and thigh, left leg and forehead; David Hively, 20 months, abrasions of the right foot and hand; William, 5, slight lacerations and abrasions of the forehead. Another child, Robert, 9, and the father, Mr. Hively, were uninjured.

Patrolmen said Hively started to make a left turn as Varkonda attempted to pass.

Car Overturns

James Lemonis, 23, of Youngstown was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the right leg and abrasions of the left shoulder after a single-car accident at 3 a. m. Sunday on Route 62, a half-mile north of Salem.

Lemonis lost control of his car which overturned as it left the highway, patrolmen said.

Passenger Injured

Cora Finley, 29, of Cleveland was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the face following a two-car accident at 1:45 a. m. Saturday on Route 45, a half-mile north of Salem.

She was a passenger in the car driven by Thomas J. Finley, 34, of the same address, which ran into the rear of the car operated by Charles McClaskey, 36, of 911 S. Union ave.

Mulch was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Erwood Calvin of Columbiana for failure to stop after an accident.

Cars driven by Alvin Sanford, 42, of East Liverpool and James Roberts, 17, of R. D. 2, Beloit sideswiped at 12:05 a. m. Saturday on Route 62, two miles west of Salem. Patrolmen said Sanford was passing Roberts when they collided.

Two Vehicles Collide

No one was injured in a truck-car mishap at 5:10 p. m. Saturday on Route 224, four miles east of Ellsworth, when the car driven by Herman Behe, 18, of North Jackson started to pass the truck operated by Robert Auschmer, 23, of Canfield.

Archie Bender, 16, of Wellsville lost control of the car he was driving at 7 a. m. Sunday on Route 39, about two miles north of Wellsville. It overturned but the occupants were unhurt.

Two Autos Damaged

Both cars were damaged in an intersection collision at 5:15 p. m. Sunday at the junction of the McIntosh and Ferguson roads, four miles north of East Liverpool. The vehicles were operated by Ray Shields, 30, of R. D. 1, East Liverpool and Mary Graham, 29, of East Liverpool.

Kenneth Felger, 36, of R. D. 1, East Palestine, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Paul Mervin of East Palestine after his car went out of control at 11 p. m. Saturday on Route 170 and hit a utility pole.

Polio Victims Brought Home

Football Players' Conditions 'Good'

Jim Callahan, Walt Wisler and Tony Colian, the three Salem High school football players who have been confined in Akron Children's Hospital with polio, returned home today.

All three are in good shape, none suffering any paralysis.

James Judge, another High school polio victim, was brought home Sunday. He has a slight weakness in one leg, doctors reported.

Still in Children's Hospital is Roger DeCrow, age 5, who went in the hospital on Friday. He has a stiff back.

The recuperating polio victims will have to "take it easy" for several weeks and will be under close surveillance by their physicians. No activity of any kind is likely for any of them until December.

His attending physician at Akron said today "there is a good chance" Jim Callahan will play basketball this winter. Callahan is a two-year letterman and center.

Parents Visit At Schools This Week

Parents Day will be observed this week throughout the Salem public schools.

Each school extends a special invitation to parents to visit and view classroom proceedings.

The annual event is held in conjunction with American Education Week. Most Ohio schools are observing the week at this time, Superintendent E. S. Kerr said.

Open house will be held all week at Buckeye and the High school. Tuesday will be Parents Day at Junior High School, while McKinley, Reilly and Prospect elementary schools will extend their welcomes on Thursday.

Democratic Banner, Sign Crash To Street

A Democratic banner, stretched across E. State st from the Salem Diner neon sign to the S-C Service store, was found crumpled on the street by police at 2:50 a. m. today. Along with it was the smashed neon sign and a steel pipe holding it in place.

Police said they didn't know how the sign had been felled. James Aldom, proprietor of the Diner, believes it was caught by the top of a high truck. He said the neon sign, which was put up about 15 years ago, would cost about $400 to replace.

Better Than 42 Billion Off-Year Vote Predicted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—High registrations in many key northern states and several in the south led state officials and party chairmen today to predict a total vote on Nov. 7 of better than 42,000,000.

That would be a record for a non-presidential election.

These same sources, using official registrations in a few and estimates in most states, place the number of persons eligible to vote this year at 69,954,478 a record.

Their state-by-state vote forecast, qualified in many instances and admittedly based on guesses in others, comes out 42,235,632. The odd digits are due to inclusion of the official vote 237,632 cast in Maine Sept. 11 for house candidates.

Incidentally, the Maine vote for governor and house nominees exceeded those totals in the presidential year of 1948, and came after what some party leaders said was a rather apathetic campaign.

The potential voter-eligibles—persons 21 and over—is estimated by the Census Bureau at 96,753,000 as of July 1, 1950. The actual vote is always far below this figure.

While the 42,000,000 vote estimate seems high to many political experts, the Democratic national committee says unofficially it looks for a vote far above the previous mid-term record of 37,304,380 cast in 1938, if the turnout this year is normal in proportion to population growth.

Also, the CIO Political Action Committee says a vote of more than 40,000,000 is indicated if measured by one formula and close to 48,000,000 if gauged by another.

Gain Shown In 1946 The total vote in the last off-year, 1946, counting the highest vote in each state for governor, senator, or all house candidates, was 35,874,568. This was an increase of 5,849,641 over 1942, but 1,429,812 under the 1938 record for an off-year.

The record presidential vote was 49,820,312 in 1940. In 1948 it was 48,833,680. The estimated registration of 69,954,478 this year compares with 66,811,617 for the last presidential election, and 59,669,656 in 1946.

New York reports an actual registration of 6,432,865, a record for a gubernatorial year. The previous high was 6,008,837 in 1946. The best for a presidential year was 7,044,676 in 1948. New York City's registration this time is 2,806,448, an increase of 93,039 over 1946, but about half a million less than 1948.

Pennsylvania reports 4,925,240 registered, including 2,913,101 Republicans and 1,951,223 Democrats. The 1948 total was 4,758,075. California has 5,244,837 registered, including 3,062,205 Democrats and 1,944,812 Republicans.

Ohio has an estimated 5,000,000 registrants and Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney predicts a record poll of 3,500,000 votes. The present record is 3,376,239 in the 1940 presidential year.

Chinese Reds Join In Drive Along Coast

BULLETIN HAMHUNG, North Korea, Oct. 30—(AP)—Two Communist divisions—reported made up largely of Chinese Reds—were driving tonight on the east coast port.

South Korean officers said there no longer was any doubt that the Chinese Reds were across the Manchurian border in force.

SEOUL, Oct. 30—(AP)—Allied forces pushed slowly toward the Communist Manchurian border today against fierce Red resistance. A badly mauled South Korean division fled in disorder.

A U. S. 10th Corps spokesman said a full Chinese Communist regiment has been identified in action. This was the first official word that a sizeable Chinese force was helping the desperate Korean Reds.

There still was no indication whether this was considered open intervention by Red China in the Korean war. Other official spokesmen earlier disclosed some individual Chinese had been captured. That was not regarded as intervention.

The most critical area in the blazing Northwest front was near Onjong. U. S. tanks and artillery were rushed there to help the Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth division. This is about 45 miles south of the border.

More than 10,000 Communists, reported to include some Chinese, chewed the division by one-third in three days of fighting and forced it to flee in disorder.

Push Toward Reservoir But the Chinese regiment reported by the 10th Corps spokesman was pin-pointed in action in northeast Korea, south of the big Chosin hydroelectric plant reservoir about 40 miles south of the Manchurian border. The plant supplies vital electric power to Manchuria.

The ROK Third division was stalled in its push toward the reservoir from Hamhung, on the east coast.

In addition to these reinforcements, North Korean women were reported going to the front. The Reds evidently were trying to hold at all costs until wintry blasts overtake the Allied forces. On the left flank of the retreating ROK sixth division, the Fifth regimental combat team of the U. S. 24th division battled within 34 miles of the Manchurian border.

AP Correspondent William Jordan reported the Americans suffered heavy casualties from mortar and small arms fire. By nightfall, the regiment was digging in two miles east of Kusong after a five-mile advance.

The Americans killed some 400 Reds and took 115 prisoners, including two Chinese.

More gruesome evidence of Red atrocities was uncovered—80 bodies of North Korean civilians at Pakchon, 46 miles north of Pyongyang, the former Red capital.

Heavy Weapons Used Indicative of the increasing fury of Red resistance was their use of their heaviest weapons, tanks and self-propelled guns.

Allied fighters and bombers supporting the American column and the British commonwealth 27th brigade on the west coast destroyed 18 tanks and seven guns.

Despite the ferocity of the Communist opposition, General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters noted that "none of the enemy counterattacks was sustained."

He said the Red attacks in the Onjong sector were stopped except for "a few minor gains." The ROKs are regrouping in that area, he added.

A U.S. Eighth army spokesman reported the ROK divisions' withdrawal was disorganized, and that a third of its strength was lost in three days of fighting.

A regiment of the ROK Sixth division reached the Manchurian frontier Thursday above Chosan. Menaced by the Reds in the rear, it was forced to withdraw to Songpa, more than 30 miles south of the Yalu river boundary.

To the south, at Onjong, the division's second regiment was surrounded Thursday, the bulk of it wiped out. Two other regiments, the 19th and 10th, were hard hit in trying to rescue the survivors of the second regiment.

South Korean commanders said Chinese Communist officers led the Red force.

Intelligence officers in Tokyo, however, continued to insist there was no evidence of open intervention by Red China in the Korean war.

Two Motorists Fined By Mayor Vincent Two motorists were fined by Mayor Harry M. Vincent today on reckless driving charges.

Harris Birkhimer, 30, of Winona was fined $10 and costs for reckless driving at 4:03 a. m. Sunday on E. State st. Frank J. Harrigan, 19, of 308 1/2 Ohio ave. paid $25 and costs on a similar charge brought against him after being arrested at 11:05 p. m. at the intersection of Franklin st and S. Lincoln ave.

Brings CommentsWASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(INS)—
Some builders have minority opinion that the government's crackdown on new construction will straighten out an industry which has seen runaway material costs and turmoil since the Korean war.They say inflationary pressures were causing an unsound economic situation in the building trades. An acute material shortage has developed along with spot instances of black market operations; many home unit projects have lagged behind time schedules; and many builders have been oversold on their contracts for delivery of homes on the basis of costs lower than those now prevailing, they contend.A reduction to only 800,000 production home starts next year which is the government's goal may clear up the chaotic conditions, these builders said.But in another vein, Robert P.
Gerholz, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards accuses the administration of striking at America's free enterprise system by restricting real-estate credit.He charged that the real cause of inflation is unlimited government spending and waste. Gerholz advocated expanded production without controls to keep civilian and military needs supplied.Other real estate officials charge that excessive government stockpiling eventually goes to rot or else accumulated materials are finally raffled off to the public.

Efficiently Planned Home

BECOMING AMERICA'S most popular layout, the one-story house gives architects a challenge for ingenuity in efficient planning. The segregation of bedrooms in a secluded wing brings forth a variety of arrangements for closets and baths. A living roomdining room "L" has become virtually a must in planning.It affords a sweep through and provides spaciousness that cannot be obtained expediently in any other way. Here is a plan for three bedrooms, two baths and full cellar by Herman York, 139-33 Keno Ave., Hollis 7, N. Y., that solves many of the problems of the one-story house.This design 4701 contemplates a coverage of 1,429 square feet, exclusive of the two-car garage—
a figure that can be used for local estimates. The house is 64 feet, 5 inches wide over all, so it calls for ample width in the lot.New Curbs May Cause Spurt
In Building And RemodelingWASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(INS)—Some top government and housing authorities feel that the new federal housing curbs may create a short spurt in home-building and later a boom in the modernization of old homes.The higher-down-payment less-time-to-pay restrictions—imposed to check record home-building—may easily bring about a paradox by causing an upsurge in home construction. However, it would be short lived.Officials point to the rush of applications for VA and FHA building loans which occurred on Oct. 11—the day before the restrictions took effect. VA received 55,000 requests for home appraisals on that day compared with only 30,000 for the previous four weeks. FHA received about 18,000 insured-loan applications, a spokesman said.All of these applications, if approved, are exempt from the controls along with another 166,000 VA had on hand and more than two billion dollars in housing loan commitments which FHA had not insured at that time.If this flood of applications materialize into actual building, it may temporarily offset the administration's home reduction goal either this winter or next spring.With predictions that the federal mortgage controls will remove about one-third of potential buyers from the new home market, many Americans, no doubt, will take advantage of FHA home improvements and repair loans.Conditions for obtaining this type of loan under $25,000 were not tightened. The repayment period remains at 30 years with ten per cent down required.One industrialist thinks that Americans will embark on a modernization program. A home repair program can provide most of the modern improvements for less than $2500, he says, and upConstruction Wages
Up 1.6 Per CentWASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)— Union wage scales in the construction trades were boosted 1.6 per cent between July and October, a government survey said today.Higher pay scales were negotiated for one-third of the 543,- 000 workers in seven major building crafts in the 85 cities included in the study.Most of the increases were for 12½ or 15 cents an hour, but one of every eight amounted to 22.5 cents an hour, the Bureau of Labor statistics found.Electricians and plumbers showed the greatest gains, the bureau said.The survey showed that the average hourly scale of all union workers in the construction industry on Oct. 2, was $2.32. The hourly rate has advanced about 81 per cent since June, 1939.The rates on Oct. 2 for the seven trades showed this range:
Bricklayers, $2.25 to $3.50; carpenters, $1.65 to $3; electricians, $1.90 to $3; painters, $1.38 to $2.65; plasterers, $2 to $3.30; plumbers, $1.85 to $3; building laborers, 83 cents to $2.19.

HOW MILD CAN A CIGARETTE BE?

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

"My throat sure gets a workout, so it's easy to see why I smoke the mild cigarette...CAMEL!"

PETER LIND HAYES
Star of stage and television

"MY DAILY schedule of shows and rehearsals puts a lot of strain on my voice — so mildness is very important to me. My cigarette is Camel. The 30-Day Mildness Test proved Camels agree with my throat!

"The 30-Day Camel Test is the sensible test, I might add. No tricks. I didn't have to decide on one puff or one sniff—a quick inhale or exhale. I took my time and enjoyed Camel's fine flavor day after day... for 30 days. And, believe me, I found out for sure just how mild and good tasting a cigarette can be! It's no wonder to me that more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette."

Hays Satisfies The C. I. O.

THE C.I.O. knows where to go to work to impose its will on the country. It is trying to "pack" congress just as brazenly as Franklin D. Roosevelt once tried to "pack" the supreme court. And with the same goal—domination of a presently independent arm of government.

To accomplish its end, the C.I.O. has moved into the Democratic party. It doesn't seem to matter how the party itself feels about this. The C.I.O. is there. The Democrats can like it, as Joe Ferguson does when he allows himself to be photographed with Walter Reuther's arm draped around his shoulders, or they can lump it, as Frank Lausche does when he avoids the C.I.O. boys like the plague.

The fact still remains that the C.I.O. has "graded" Ohio's 23 congressmen—according to its own ideas of how they should represent the public—and has come up with a perfect division. On the C.I.O. scorecard, not one Republican is fit to return to Congress, and not one Democrat should be refused reelection. On the famous C.I.O. scorecard, distributed all over the state, the Democrats are unanimously RIGHT, the Republicans are unanimously WRONG. That's the way they printed their decisions—all big, block letters so no voter can misunderstand.

The important fact in all this to the 18th Congressional District, which includes Salem, is that the district's present congressman, Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, is a Democrat who has been graded RIGHT clear across the board. He hasn't made one false move in matters which the C.I.O. considers important. He's never deviated from the line.

That, to us, is an indictment. If Mr. Hays is going to represent only one minority, we don't think the rest of the public is going to get a decent break as the Fair Deal barges ahead with its program of socialism in all directions. That program is endorsed, and much of it inspired, by the C.I.O. It's the basis of the C.I.O. scorecard.

We'd prefer to see Robert L. Quinn of Steubenville, a Republican with strong convictions about congressional independence, replace Mr. Hays in the 18th district seat. The good of the whole public is a whole of a lot more important to us than a RIGHT mark on a C.I.O. scorecard.

The State Ticket

C. WILLIAM O'NEILL of Marietta has conducted an exceptionally intelligent and fair campaign for the office of attorney general. This has confirmed the widespread judgment of Ohioans that he is one of the brightest political prospects to be developed in this state in recent years.

Mr. O'Neill has served in the Ohio general assembly for the last 12 years, starting when he was only 21 years old. Ten years later, he was speaker of the house of representatives, holding that key position on his own merits as the natural leader of his party. When the Republicans lost their majority in Columbus two years ago, Mr. O'Neill continued to serve as minority leader.

He is seeking to replace Herbert S. Duffy, Democrat, now serving as Ohio's attorney general. In Mr. O'Neill, Ohioans have an outstanding candidate for an important state office and an attractive young man seeking a career in public service.

Roger W. Tracy, Republican candidate for state treasurer, also is an attractive candidate for pretty much the same reasons. Mr. Tracy, an accountant, has made a close study of the state's financial practices and is prepared to suggest a number of sound reforms if elected. He would be an excellent successor to Don Ebricht, who vacated the race for the office to become a candidate for governor this year.

These two outstanding candidates should be supported by voters who think there is room for improvement in state government.

Otherwise in the contest for state offices, J. Eugene Roberts, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and Charles F. Sweeney, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, are worthy of special consideration.

Mr. Sweeney is running for re-election against Ted W. Brown, Republican. There is no apparent reason for replacing Mr. Sweeney with Mr. Brown.

'German Occupation

By PETER EDSON

People Gripe About It, But Want It

IN GERMANY JOHN J. McCLOY leans forward in his chair, his arms resting on the edge of a huge table in one of the biggest conference rooms you ever saw.

"We're still the occupying power," says the U. S. High Commissioner for Western Germany, with a finality that indicates Americans will be here for some time to come. Then with a smile he adds: "The Germans would like to complain a little, but still have us here."

The setting for his words is the former board room of the worldwide I. G. Farben-Industrie cartel in one of the few big buildings in Frankfurt which didn't have the guts bombed out of it. The story heard now is that the Allies spared it, just for use as a headquarters such as this.

From this vantage point, McCloy keeps busy constantly reassessing the changing German attitude.

Korea stirred them; the first defeats alarmed them into pleading for more occupation forces; victory and UN assurances have given them new confidence.

What they have, McCloy believes, is a sort of "this or nothing" choice.

On one hand they regard the Allied occupation as more or less irksome, although kindly in its administration. They would like to get rid of it. On the other, they still expect the U. S. to work a miracle—as in the Berlin airlift or the Inchon landing—to get the Germans or the rest of the world out of Communist trouble whenever it arises.

McCloy feels the West Germans now have a will to fight for the West, because they believe the best road to peace is through the western community of nations.

THE GERMANS are war-weary, he says, but their hopes are not dead. Their heads have been lifted. They are better off than they were in 1945 and they know it. They are vigorous. They are neither frustrated nor nihilistic. The Nazi party is done for.

There are, of course, some elements in Western Germany that are dissatisfied, McCloy admits.

He says there will probably always be rightist and leftist parties, as long as there are human communities.

There is no pressing desire for re-armament on the part of many Germans. They don't want to recreate the Hitler Wehrmacht. There may be some elements in Germany which think they can impose conditions on the Western powers, in return for agreement to re-arm.

For instance, there have been demands that the Western powers send 10 more divisions to West Germany, before the Germans themselves re-arm. There have been other reports that former German generals have demanded that the war criminals be released before Germany takes up arms.

SO FAR, the German government has sought none of these conditions, says McCloy. He believes that if the German government is given a dignified and honorable position, the German people will be sensible and realistic.

Have recent events in Korea and at the United Nations in New York brought peace with Germany and the end of Allied occupation any nearer?

"We're always working towards the end of occupation," McCloy answers. He quotes a German government official as having said that the occupation is now five-sixths through. The U. S. Commissioner doesn't endorse any such definite percentage. The recent changes in the occupation statutes were agreed to before Korea, and were not concessions to the German government, McCloy points out.

The Germans still have some false ideas of democracy, McCloy believes. They have made progress, but they are not ready to stand alone.

"Bear in mind that this German government is only a year old," Commissioner McCloy cautions. "It will have to endure much longer before anyone can say, 'This is a democracy.'"

Let Those Leaves Alone

By TRUMAN TWILL

EACH year about this time it is in order to muse a little about the leaf problem and its implications in the larger subject of human behavior.

Leaves have been falling off the trees since there were trees, which was long before there were men to make a fuss about them. In nature's plan, which is by and large a darned sight smarter than man's fumbling schemes for improving the earth, fallen leaves had a natural and important destiny. They were a detail in the ashes-to-ashes cycle.

Nothing in that cycle called for any assistance from human beings, other than might come under the heading of farsighted cooperation with nature's master plan for turning leaves to good account.

No one can object to a mere man helping to move the leaves where nature needs them, which is in a compost heap. But there can be vivid objections when a mere man burns leaves in bonfires on expensive paving, for instance, and destroys not only the leaves but the paving. Who does he think he is? That is an offense not only against nature but against other men.

It is not, to be sure, a premeditated offense. It is, rather the manifestation of something goofy in human behavior—which is where this piece begins to be deep-dish. Because that goofy streak in humanity which causes it to mess around in places where angels should fear to tread is dynamite. Take a look at the trouble it is causing right now.

The same thing that makes men

Playing For Keeps

STRAIGHT talk from an air force general who says western defenses are ready:

"For the first time in our history, the United States is within range of and in danger of attack. Now, for the first time, we know something of the feeling of insecurity that the people of other nations have known for generations. We must realize that the peace and security and the lush living we have known are not God-given rights or inherited privileges, but rewards to be worked for and fought for and to be won."

Brig. Gen. William M. Morgan, vice-commander of the Western Air Defense force, said that at an armed forces dinner.

He said a network of air force-manned radar stations is operating and that air defense control centers and jet fighters are ready 24 hours a day. "We're playing for keeps," Gen. Morgan declared.

"Cancha Just Put Me Down as Being Unique?"

U. S. Can't Pay All The World's Debts

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

SENATOR LODGE of Massachusetts, a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, put his finger on a warm issue in challenging the inequality of membership dues in the U. N. under which the United States pays more than one-third of the entire budget.

That is a subject which concerns the pocketbook of every citizen—and increasingly so. "Right now," said the senator in a radio broadcast, "the U. S. pays 40 per cent of the U. N. budget, England pays 11½ per cent and Russia pays only 7 per cent."

Mr. Lodge calls this a "ludicrous position" and he wants to see it changed. He says the original agreement was based on the ability of each country to pay, with war damages taken into account. But he points out that the Soviet leaders have consistently said they have completely repaired the damages of war in their country—and so, he figures, they should pay a bigger share in the U. N.

This rather spot-lights the recent report in U. N. circles about the huge cost America was likely to have to bear for Korean rehabilitation. The U. S. delegation was reported to have said Korean relief and rehabilitation would run to about $240,000,000 a year, according to revised estimates. (South Korean authorities put the annual amount at $500,000,000.)

Some delegations are said to be concerned over the size of this figure. They say the program might run three years, and Uncle Sam might have to foot the entire bill.

That's an idea calculated to irk the American taxpayer considerably. He is patient and, we hope, fairly generous. Still he has bills to meet at home, and sees no reason why he should pick up all the checks all the time.

Of course there are more nations than Russia who undoubtedly are able to pay a larger share of the U. N. obligations.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Mongoloid Children Problem

PARENTS who have a mongoloid child are greatly shocked by this sad event. It happens entirely without warning, even to the most healthy and normal parents, and always causes sadness and heartache.

Although it is true that the cause of these unfortunate births is not known, there are a few facts about them which have been established. About one child in five hundred or a thousand will be a mongoloid. This means that some three to five thousand mongoloid children are born each year in the United States, out of the total of about three million.

A question that comes up constantly is whether a mother who has had one mongoloid child should try again for a normal baby. Judging from what is known, the answer would usually be affirmative because she would have nineteen chances out of twenty of having a normal child. True, this is not as good a chance as the mother who has not had a mongoloid infant, but it is not too bad.

Another point that is important to remember is that a woman who becomes pregnant after the age of 40 has a somewhat increased chance of having a mongoloid child. She should not worry about this during pregnancy, however, since the older mother is much more likely to have a perfectly normal infant than a mongoloid.

The birth of a mongoloid child, though a great misfortune, is a sort of accident and does not reflect on the parents, the relatives, the medical or the diet. This event should not cause careless gossip among friends or neighbors. It must be faced by the parents with courage and intelligence.

A mongoloid infant can be identified at birth, and consequently, it is often wise to separate the child from its mother before sentimental ties of affection have been forged.

There is no known way of improving the mental capacity of a mongoloid child and therefore most physicians feel that they should be placed in an institution as soon as possible. They always appear to be happy and friendly and do not suffer from their condition or from being in an institution.

They seem to like music, and can imitate quite well but do not often learn to speak, and when they do, the voice is rough and harsh. Many die while they are still quite young, and few live beyond their teens.

Dr. Sersiron, of Paris, suggested the double-barred cross used as the emblem in the fight against tuberculosis, adopted in 1902.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I only hope, Dr. Ferris, that the heavenly choir is able to stay on key more successfully than the one in your church!"

Religion

By BEM PRICE

(For Hal Boyle)

It Still Lives In N. Korea

NORTH KOREA

IT WAS A BARE little church just around the corner from a bombed out electric plant.

The small building nestled beside the broad concrete highway running from Hamhung to the Sea of Japan. A cross on top marked the building as a place of Christian worship.

Curiosity impelled us to enter—two correspondents and a former Korean law student from Seoul.

We had expected to find it empty; religion rides rough seas in Communist countries. North Korea had had five years of Red rule.

To our amazement, we heard the rich, resonant tones of an organ. Its sonorous notes filled the little room.

Then young voices lifted in a hymn. Our eyes adjusted to the dim light. They took in an ancient pump organ, four bare benches and a pulpit.

A young man was seated at the organ. Ten little girls lined the benches. None was more than 12 years old.

The organ music and the singing stopped. The young man looked up, a question in his eyes. The girls looked up, too—and, like little girls everywhere, giggled.

Through our Korean friend, we asked them to continue.

THE MUSIC resumed, ever so softly. The organist nodded. The children began singing again. There was no mistaking the hymn. Their young voices rolled it out, clear and strong.

"Rock of ages, cleft for me . . ."

Before the hymn was finished, a scuffling intruded from the rear of the church. Through the door came an old man.

He extended his hand. The singing stopped.

The old man reached into a dilapidated briefcase and drew out a book. He began to read in Korean.

Our Seoul friend said the old man was reading from the New Testament.

Another man entered. He went from window to window with a mouthful of nails, tacking in window panes which had been removed to safeguard them during the fighting for Hamhung.

Our Seoul friend, San Ku Lee, began talking with the little gathering.

He talked to them of democracy . . . of the blessings it could bring to people . . . freedom from fear . . . freedom of religion . . .

They listened avidly—the organist, the ragged old man, the little girls.

THE CHILLY October sun cast the pattern of a cross on the floor.

Then the two churchmen began talking. Lee translated it for us:

This had been a Methodist church. During the Red Korean regime, the Communists had banned reading of the Bible. But they had permitted singing.

—And through the old hymns, like "Rock of Ages," Christianity lived on in hearts of these Koreans. Its spirit was kindled in the young.

After a time we left, refreshed by this testimony of faith under adversity.

We took a last look. In the doorway our new-found friends—the old man, the young organist and the little girls—all waved goodbye.

Above them, the white cross gleamed like a beacon in the light of a dying day.

Army Sets Up Point System

Will Determine Men Called From Reserve

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—A new point system, based on age, previous service and the number of dependents, is to guide the Army's handling of its reserve enlisted men.

Announcement of the new plan was one of two-week end developments affecting such men. In the other, the Army announced that it is making no more mandatory calls for enlisted reserves except for a limited number of medical and counter intelligence specialists.

Both developments apply only to enlisted reservists, not to officers.

The point system is to be used in determining (1) which reservists among those on active duty will be sent overseas and (2) the order in which additional reservists would be ordered to active duty in the event of possible future call-ups.

In both these determinations, the first men to be chosen would be those with the fewest points, within desired military specialties.

Points—called service credits—are to be credited under the system as follows:

One credit for each year of the reservist's age over 20, one for each year of reserve service, two for each combat award he has received, four for each year of active federal service, four for each year of overseas service and eight for each dependent.

The Army said that some men with the highest service credit scores probably will be relieved from active duty within three months, but stressed:

"There will be no establishment of a quota for relief from active duty on a worldwide scale, nor will there be any mandatory overall relief score."

Man Shoots Self, Wounds Peacemaker

STEUBENVILLE, Oct. 30—(AP)—A steelworker was in critical condition today with a bullet hole in his stomach because he tried to stop a family shooting. The husband he attempted to halt shot him and then committed suicide.

Dead was Lawrence P. Marx, 53, a Zanesville tile worker who was ruled a suicide by Dr. John P. Smarrella, Jefferson county coroner.

In the Ohio Valley hospital here was H. R. Ross, 23, of Unionport, who was also shot on the arm and head as he attempted to CHINESE REDS IN KOREA?—The Republic of Korea commander of the 2nd South Korean Corps, Maj.-Gen. Yu Hae Heung, has reported that 40,000 Chinese Red troops have entered North Korea and have been thrown into the fight at Unsan, 64 miles north of Pyongyang. Yu said he believed the Chinese were thrown into the battle to help protect the large number of electrical plants (power symbol) in northwest Korea. Entire report is unconfirmed. Meanwhile, the ROK 6th Division widened its toehold on the Yalu River frontier near Choson (1) and British troops, to the southwest, advanced past Kasan (2). On the east coast, the ROK Capital Division, pushing past Tanchon (3), advanced to within five miles of Songjin, about halfway to Kilchu. North Koreans were reported regrouping (large white arrow) at Changpaisham, a Manchurian border city.

Police said the couple had been separated two years. Mrs. Marx, they continued, filed a suit for divorce in common pleas court and a suit charging non-support in municipal court.

East German Police Dig In At Border

BERLIN, Oct. 30—(AP)—East Germany's militarized police dug trenches and laid barbed wire at four places near the border of west Berlin during the weekend, American officials reported today.

The Soviet zone entrenchments apparently were for field training of police infantry units. The Allied high commission kept the development under close observation.

Recently Soviet zone police unwittingly overstepped the western city limits and dug several machinegun emplacements inside the U.S. sector before they noticed their error and withdrew.

The eastern police were reported unofficially today to be threatening reprisals against Soviet zone families whose members flee to west Berlin or West Germany.

Since last January, 44,000 East Germans have left the Soviet zone without police permission.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 30—(AP)—Nationalists and police clashed at two points today on the southern coast of this island, and some dead and wounded were reported, authorities announced.

The outbreak began at a police station in the city of Ponce. Police said Nationalist party agents tried to storm the station and lost four dead. Three police were reported wounded.

Ohio Retail Sales Off In September

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30—(AP)—Ohio retail sales dropped 2 per cent in September—a month when a seasonal gain usually occurs—the Bureau of Business Research at Ohio State University said today.

Sales remained ahead of last year, however, the bureau said in the October issue of the Ohio Retail Annalist they were 10 per cent above the first nine months of 1949 and 14 per cent higher than September, 1949.

All retail items reported gains from last year, but appliances, furniture, shoe, motor vehicles, jewelry and men's clothing stores, in that order, lead with increases for the first nine months ranging from 48 to 21 per cent.

Sangree-Brant Vows Heard At Presbyterian Church

BEAUTIFUL TRANSPARENT VELVET set the fashion of the gowns worn at the wedding of Miss Janet Sangree and David W. Brant at 3:30 Saturday in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church.

The daughter of Mrs. W. P. Sangree of N. Union ave and the late Mr. Sangree and the son of Mrs. Lloyd W. Brant of Pittsburgh, and the late Mr. Brant exchanged vows and rings in the afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. Harold L. Ogden, church pastor.

Wilbur Sangree gave his sister in marriage as the bride party stood at the candle lit chancel entrance outlined with palms, ferns and two beauty baskets of pompons and chrysanthemums.

The organist, Miss Marguerite Vincent, played a musical prelude including "To a Wild Rose," "Evening Star," "Oh Promise Me," "Traumeri," "Andante Cantabile," "Dreams" and "Oh Perfect Love." The bride procession was heralded by the traditional marches.

Warren Gottschalk of Pittsburgh sang the melodies, "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning." Later as the couple knelt at the altar he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The white velvet of the bride's handmade gown was in ballerina style. Pearls accented the jeweled necklace and the white imported lace yoke and cap sleeves contrasted with the velvet of the basque. The waist was attached in corded scallops to the fully gathered skirt.

She wore long mitts to match the material in her gown and her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a sweetheart bonnet of lace and velvet. Stephanotis and miniature pompons showered on white ribbon from the white lavender-tipped orchid the bride carried on her white Bible.

Attending the bride and groom were Miss Betty Macy of Mansfield and Willis Drummond, Jr. of Pittsburgh.

Velvet in an autumn rust shade with cream-colored imported lace was used for Miss Macy's ballerina gown. The style was identical with the bride's gown.

Yellow ribbon leaves encircled her cascade bouquet of bronze pompons which was centered with yellow pompons and a wide yellow ribbon streamer bow. Her mitts and bonnet matched her gown.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sangree chose a forest green dress of an embroidered design. Her accessories were green and black. Mrs. Brant wore a plum-colored frock with black velvet. Both had corsages of yellow roses.

More than 75 friends and relatives from Salem, Pittsburgh, Mansfield, Columbiana and Lisbon were welcomed by the newlyweds at the reception in the chapel. Autumn was brought into the room in the colors of the leaves and flowers used in the window boxes. Candlelight and silver added to the beauty of the refreshment tables.

The square wedding cake cut by the couple was in three tiers crowned by three bells and a nosegay of white and yellow mums. Assisting in serving were Miss May Miller, Mrs. Ernest Breit, Miss Zona Hambrick of Mansfield and Miss Elinor Currier. Mrs. Wilbur Sangree registered the guests.

For her honeymoon Mrs. Brant traveled in a grey suit. She wore grey and coral accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Following a trip through the Smoky mountains, they will be at home after Nov. 15 at 417 Ridgewood ave Pittsburgh.

The bride has been employed until recently as director of religious education at the Mansfield First Presbyterian church. Mr. Brant is an auto salesman. They gave their attendants gifts prior to the wedding supper Friday at the Quaker Coffee shop.

FABRIC COMBINATIONS which make for interest springing from contrast are stressed in winter's rayon crepe afternoon dresses.

Rayon crepe may be combined with satin, or with velveteen or even with wool jersey. The two fabrics may be dyed to a perfect color match, or they may have color contrast.

One such dress (left) combines a beige rayon crepe and satin in a design with deep-set, three-quarter sleeves and high, round jewelry neckline. Essentially simple, thus stressing the fabric contrast, this dress has a panel of the satin inset in the front of a softly-gathered crepe skirt.

Another dress, a jacket dress this time, uses rayon crepe and velveteen to good advantage. Dress and jacket (right), in brown crepe, are banded in a lighter shade of the crepe and a darker shade of the velveteen. The jacket has cuffs of the velveteen as well.

Couple Celebrates Silver Anniversary

A "TREE" with 25 silver dollars on it was among the gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Wank when they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a party Saturday evening in their home.

Guests included relatives and the evening was enjoyed informally. A traditional wedding cake was served with the refreshments.

Miss Margaret Simons and Orlan Wank were married Oct. 28, 1925, in the Washingtonville Methodist parsonage by Rev. Edgar Beale. They have spent their married life in Salem and are active members of the First Friends church. Mr. Wank is employed by the Lincoln Machine Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Wank are the parents of three children—Robert Wank, student at Cleveland Bible college; Pvt. Donald Wank of the Air Force and June, at home.

Donald, who is spending a short furlough at home, will leave Tuesday night for Fort Dix, N. J., where he will be stationed until he goes overseas. Robert, member of a college quartet, sang at a Youth-for-Christ rally in Warren Saturday night.

Group Has Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. John Cobedesh were hosts at a coverdish dinner meeting of the Three Links social club of the Odd Fellows Friday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall. Members Hold Party At Sevaheen Lake SPOOKS and goblins helped to "bury John Brown" at the Halloween party held Saturday night at the Sevaheen Lake Country club.

The members met at the bathhouse to get their first clue for the treasure hunt. With the treasure of bubble gum was included an invitation to help bury the "body" of John Brown. After a search starting at the pavilion the "body" was found hanging from a tree.

To add to the excitement, "parts" of the body were passed among the crowd and then to the singing of "John Brown's Body" the so-called corpse was laid to rest.

Games and contests were held in the clubhouse, with prizes going to Harry Weikart, Mrs. Vest King, Dick Poorbaugh, Mrs. Tom Place, Joanie Johnson, Billy Holloway and Carol McQuilkin.

Foot-long hot dogs were served at refreshment time and the tables were decorated in keeping with the occasion.

Galen Weaver, who has just been elected president for 1951, was presented a birthday cake. Mrs. Leila Wackerly, president of the women's auxiliary, headed the committee planning the affair, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Easton and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Sangree.

Miss Betty Moser Becomes Bride Of Jerome Kaufman

DISTINCTIVELY gowned in white Chantilly lace over satin, Miss Betty Moser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moser of Columbiana, was a lovely bride for her marriage to Jerome Kaufman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaufman of Park dr.

The ceremony was at noon Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church. Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney, pastor, officiated in the double-ring ceremony which was witnessed by a large company of relatives and friends.

Just before the service, Miss Sarah Colman, organist, played "Incline Thine Ear" and "Silent Prayer." She sang "Ave Maria" and also used Kulak's wedding march and "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling" for the processional and recessional respectively.

Mr. Moser escorted his daughter to the altar. At the sanctuary entrance was an artistic arrangement of cibotim ferns, palms and grape ivy. On the altar were bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and pompons combined with candelabra.

The bride's ballerina-length gown was styled with a sheer yoke, jeweled neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was attached to a white satin halo.

For the traditionally "something old" she wore her mother's pearls. A white orchid centered her cascade bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern tied with white maline.

Mrs. William Hannay, matron of honor, wore an attractive ballerina-length gown created of mint green tulle and satin. The gown was styled with a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt.

Her tiara matched her gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow pompons and maidenhair fern tied with multi-colored ribbon. Philip Cahill was best man. Robert Edwards of Baltimore, cousin of the groom, and Joseph Deagan seated the guests, assisted by Don Moser of Columbiana, brother of the bride, junior usher.

The wedding breakfast for the families was at the Lape hotel. A reception for approximately 200 guests was held at the Salem Golf club from 3 to 5 p. m. Saturday. The refreshment table was graced by a traditional wedding cake and green and white floral decorations.

Guests were from Baltimore, Toledo, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Youngstown, Sharon and nearby towns.

For an eastern honeymoon trip the bride wore a green suit with matching accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is employed at the People bank in Youngstown. Mr. Kaufman is associated in business with the Kaufman Brothers.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman will reside in the Kaufman apartments, 493 S. Broadway.

Cleveland Ground Power Wallops Steelers

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

VIC JANOWICZ, Ohio State's great tailback, latches onto a pass that resulted in one of the Buckeye's 12 touchdowns as they scored at will over Iowa to run up the biggest Conference score since 1939. More than 82,000 fans watched Wes Fesler's boys beat the Hawkeyes, 33 to 21, and continue their march toward a Big Ten title, at Columbus. That's Dick Anderson running to Janowicz.

Marion Motley Runs Wild In 45-7 Lacing

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30—(AP)—The boys who said the Cleveland Browns don't have a ground attack should take a look at the record.

The four-time All-American loop champions, who have depended on the accurate arm of automatic Otto Graham for five years to earn their yardage, proved yesterday they were fast as well as a bit gaudy in the airways.

They ran over the Pittsburgh Steelers 45 to 7 to take over second place in the American division of the National Football League, and they beat the lakefront stadium turf into a froth while doing it.

THE FIRST four touchdowns came on the ground, with big Marion Motley providing the power. A rushing total of 338 yards—greatest in the history of the Browns—was chalked up as the Steelers were subdued.

Two touchdowns came through the air, but they came in the final period after the issue was settled. But the Browns looked like the Browns of old when they did go overhead. Graham passed to Dub Jones for an 80-yard scoring play, and Cliff Lewis hit Horace Gillom for a 38-yard touchdown, just to prove they still had the finesse to do it.

Motley, throttled in two losses to the New York Giants, was the powerhouse of old as he stormed his 245 pounds over the Steelers for 188 yards in 11 tries.

The big fellow went for a couple of 12-yard jaunts through the middle the first two times he had the ball, took a pitchout from Graham for 50 yards to the Steelers two, went 17 yards for a touchdown after pitchout from Graham, zoomed 69 on the trap play for a touchdown, and rolled 20 yards for another crack at the line as he made himself generally obnoxious to the Pittsburgh team.

GRAHAM SCORED the first touchdown on a four-yard sneak to climax a six-play 32-yard drive, after which the Steelers went 74 yards, only to be held for down on the Brown two. The losers came right back to the Brown scoring territory, but lost the ball on the four as Alex Agase intercepted a pass.

Motley's 50-yard romp with the first pitchout moved the Browns to the two, from where Lou Groza booted a field goal, and then Graham's pitchout and Motley's 17-yard run gave the Clevelanders a touchdown and a 17-0 halftime edge.

Motley's 69-yarder early in the third period sewed it up, but Dopey Phelps whirled over tackle for 14 yards and touchdown to make it 31-0 going into the final quarter.

The Steelers made their lone offensive gesture as the last period got under way, Joe Gasparilla covering 80 yards with two passes, 51 yards to Lynn Chandnois and 29 to Bob Gage for a touchdown.

At that point the Browns, having convinced the Steelers they had a ground attack, took to the air for their final markers.

A crowd of 40,714, best of the regular season in lakefront stadium, witnessed the fray.

Bucks Favored In Big 10 Race

Ohio Scoring Sprees Threaten Records

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—(AP)—Southern Methodist certainly played a dirty trick on Ohio State's Big Ten rivals by whipping the Buckeyes, 32-27, last Sept. 30. Nobody, then, knew how mad the Bucks got from that Mustangs' kick.

Today, exactly one month later, the Scarlet and Gray hurricane of Columbus, Ohio, threatens to make a shambles of what promised to be a nice, respectable three-way league race between the Bucks, Michigan and Illinois.

It's true that Ohio State has to meet Illinois (Nov. 18) and Michigan (in a Nov. 25 grand finale), but with three straight loop victories ground out with an avalanche of 157 points, including last Saturday's 83-21 plastering of Iowa, the Bucks look mighty like a shoo-in.

In next Saturday's four-game Big Ten card, Ohio State takes its touchdown-crazy horde to Evanston, Ill., against Northwestern, last Saturday tumbled from the unbeaten ranks by Wisconsin, 14-13.

THEN, THE Bucks meet Wisconsin the following Saturday before wading into the real main attraction of the Big Ten season—against Illinois and arch-rival Michigan, who this Saturday will try to cut each others' throat at Ann Arbor, Mich.

The Big Ten title trail is a rocky one, and a seven-game conference card is going it the longest route, but there hasn't been a team with Ohio State's scoring proclivities since the loop was a pup.

The 83-21 massacre of Iowa was the wildest conference spree since Michigan snuffed Chicago under 85 points in 1939. But that hardly rates comparison, the Maroons then being on the verge of complete grid anemia.

Going back almost to the turn of the century, the conference had some scoring dillies. Michigan whopped Iowa (the Hawkeyes have had their bad moments, all right) 107 to 0 in 1902. That same season, Ohio State—no less—took an 83 to 0 battering by Michigan, and Illinois pummeled Iowa, 80 to 0.

In 1903, Minnesota clouted Iowa, 75 to 0, and in 1905, the Gophers won from Northwestern, 72-6. Back in 1893, Michigan pasted Northwestern 72-6.

SINCE HAVING their dander aroused by the aerial-minded Mustangs, who had a minus seven yards rushing against Ohio State, the Bucks have rolled to four straight wins—over Pittsburgh, 41-7; Indiana 26-14; Minnesota, 48-0; and Iowa, 83-21.

Ohio State's five game total is 225 points, an average of 45 per game. Fielding Yost's famed point-a-minute Michigan terror of 1902 averaged 58.5 points in 11 games. In their three conference games, the Bucks have a 52.3 average. This pace would break not only Michigan's modern record of 34.5 for six games in 1943, but also Yost's 1902 Wolverine conference average of 43.4 for five loop games.

It is significant to note, however, that the four remaining teams on Ohio State's program are their four closest pursuers—Wisconsin (3-1), Michigan (1-0-1), Northwestern (1-1) and Illinois (1-1). The Bucks' three league victims to date now are second division contenders.

It will be uphill for the Buckeyes from now to the finish wire. But they seem to have the high octane stuff for the climb.

JACK LIKES EZZARD

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—Jack Dempsey thinks heavy-weight champion Ezzard Charles is an underrated fighter. "Charles is a good boy," the former heavyweight king said today upon his return from Dallas, Tex. "He's smart and tough and a lot better fighter than a lot of people think he is."

GIN (GER) RICKEY—Just as peppy as ever, 69-year-old Branch Rickey fended reporters' questions on his next move at a press conference in Columbus, O. Reports had said he was expected to announce his acceptance of the general manager position of the Pittsburgh Pirates, but this was denied. Were it true, the former president of the Brooklyn Dodgers would succeed H. Roy Hamey who is taking over as field director of the New York Yankees' minor league clubs.

Strikes to Spare

If you didn't have a 200 average Thursday night you were a bum. Some of the hottest bowling of the year took place in the Commercial League.

In the Commercial loop Don Krauss, the house man, had his best night, hitting a big 652 set. His first game was 275, a high in Salem for the season. He began with an eight-bagger, picked up the 3-10 split in the ninth, got a double and seven pins in the tenth.

Dick Hahn also topped 600, getting a 614 for Schuster's Market. His first game was his best, 232.

Other big scores were turned in by Ralph Gregg, who had 596, Paul Scullion, 564; Charlie Huffer, 571; Ed Pukalski, 555; John Trombitas, 544, and Mike Hutter, 543.

Sports Mirror

Today a year ago — The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League won their sixth straight game, defeating the Chicago Bears, 27 to 24.

Five years ago — Gabby Hartnett, one-time Chicago Cub catcher, signed to manage the Buffalo Bisons of the International League.

Ten years ago — Challedon beat Can't Wait in the Pimlico Special at Baltimore.

Fifteen years ago — John Henry Lewis won the world lightweight title, outpointing Bob Olin in 15 rounds at St. Louis.

Don Clark, one of Navy's assistant football coaches, played tackle for Southern California three years ago.

• We watched the Cleveland Browns humiliate the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday and it wasn't the same club which was beaten last week in New York.

• This was a club we'd never seen before—a terrific running outfit. Rolling up over 300 yards on the ground, the Browns resorted to passing only to loosen the Steeler defense.

• Marion Motley played his best game in three years, ripping through the big Steeler line on his favorite trap plays, running for two touchdowns and being deprived of another when he was ruled out of bounds on the two yard line.

• He actually ran through the Pittsburgh secondary and then out raced the Steeler halfbacks into the end zone twice. The big boy, listed at 30 (?) years, can still run.

• Otto Graham had an easy day, watching ball carriers do the dirty work. He fed Motley, Dopey Phelps and Ken Carpenter all afternoon and passed rarely.

• Early in the game Otto picked up one of his infrequent injuries. He was slammed down while trying to throw and mysteriously developed a bleeding nose. Sidelined for a play or two, he came back immediately.

• He was covered with blood the rest of the game and so was the seat of Frank Gatski's pants, upon which Graham dripped while crouching before each play.

• Dub Jones, the Browns regular halfback, didn't break into the lineup until deep in the second half. His running has not suited the big boss, Paul Brown. It's likely he will find it tough to get back in, after the way his subs performed.

• The vaunted Steeler back, Joe Geri, had a relatively poor afternoon.

Champion Eagles Gain Lead In NFL

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—After a shaky start, the Philadelphia Eagles appeared today to be taking dead aim on their third straight National Football League title.

The hard-hitting Eagles opened the 1950 campaign by absorbing a 35-10 walloping from Cleveland's Browns, but they haven't lost since. Coach Greasy Neale's squad clicked for the fifth straight time yesterday, taking clear title to the American conference lead, by drubbing the Washington Redskins, 35-3.

That triumph helped to break a first place tie with the New York Giants, who were dumped into third position via a 17-3 setback from the Chicago Cardinals. Cleveland, with a 45-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, took the runner-up spot.

Meanwhile, the New York Yanks won the "big one," earning a 38-27 decision over the Chicago Bears, whom they'd never whipped before. That success gave the Yanks a full game lead in the National conference — they've won six of their seven games — and pushed the Bears back to third.

Second position in the National conference was taken over by the rampaging Rams of Los Angeles. Still on a terrific upsurge following their 70-27 massacre of the Baltimore Colts the week before, the Rams yesterday vented their power on the Detroit Lions 65-24.

In another National conference clash, Baltimore remained winless as they suffered their sixth loss. They bowed to the San Francisco 49ers, 17-14.

Barons Beat Cincy 7-4; Gain Loop Tie

Could be that the New Haven Eagles have come up with a first class goalie in their efforts to get out of the doldrums in the American Hockey League.

Al Millar, a rookie, made 36 saves last night as he notched a 2-0 shutout for the Eagles over the Pittsburgh Hornets. It was the Eagle's second victory of the campaign.

In Cincinnati, the Cleveland Barons climbed into a first place tie in the western division of the loop by smacking the Cincinnati Mohawks, 7-4. The Mohawks and Barons now are deadlocked each with 6-3-2 records.

The Buffalo Bisons had no trouble staying at the top of the heap in the eastern division by outdistancing the third place Springfield Indians, 7-4.

In other contests the Hershey Bears polished off the Rhode Island Reds, 5-2, and the St. Louis Flyers recorded a 5-4 overtime triumph over Indianapolis, which has yet to win a game.

Win Team Trapshoot

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 30—(AP)—The Crystal Lake Gun Club of Clark county yesterday won the team event in the Central Ohio Trapshooting League's post-season shoot at Crystal Lake.

The Troy Club was second with 478. Springfield third with 477 and Middletown fourth with 473. Hugh McKinley of Harrisburg was the individual winner in the 16-yard event with 99 of 100. Ray Leasher of Germantown and Roy Davidson of Middletown won the two-man event with 194 of 200. P. O. Farbage of West Jefferson had the day's high average with 491, and Cliff Doughman of Morrow took the professional event with 50 of 50.

Atlantic Powers Map Defense Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Atlantic powers' defense committee set out to finish framing today the structure of a combined defense force to protect Western Europe against any aggression from Russia.

But interposed was an old obstacle over which the Atlantic nations had stumbled before — should German forces be organized to participate in the common defense? If so, under what conditions?

The opening of today's session held forth hopes that the defense ministers of the 12 pact countries could iron out details and disagreements by tonight. It was a hope, not a certainty.
